Begin your analysis by conducting a Google search using the term “school uniforms.”

The following passage summarizes an important difference of opinion. After reading the statement, use the library and/or the Internet and find what knowledgeable people have said about the issue. Be sure to cover the entire range of views. Then assess the strengths and weakness of each IF you conclude that one view is entirely correct and the others are mistaken, explain how you reached that conclusion. If, as is more likely, you find that one view is more insightful than the others but that they all make some valid points, construct a view of your won that combines the insights from all sides and explain why that view is the most reasonable of all. Present your response in a composition. Be sure cite your source of information in MLA style.

Should public schools require uniforms? A number of public schools around the country have decided to make uniforms mandatory. School officials reason that doing so will eliminate the distraction caused by fashion extremes and the problems associated with gang insignia and will also create a sense of order and purpose conducive to learning. Many parents welcome the change. Others, however, consider it an assault on the rights of themselves and their children. Some say they will refuse to honor the dress code.
