Senior Year Plus Quality Assurance

It is the responsibility of institutions participating in Senior Year Plus (SYP) to ensure the quality of courses and compliance with the appropriate requirements of Iowa law. For both secondary and postsecondary courses, a variety of external accountability mechanisms exist to ensure that Senior Year Plus standards are met. These include a plethora of accreditation and audit processes.

Accreditation Processes

Educational institutions are reviewed through accreditation processes grounded in the fundamental assumption that quality is best served through processes that enable peers of an organization, informed by standards best understood and applied by professionals in the field, to make the comparative judgments essential to quality assurance. In Iowa, the peer review accreditation model is supplemented with assessments of compliance with the state minimum standards in Iowa law.

School District State Accreditation Process

The Iowa Department of Education’s school improvement process utilizes a continuous improvement model for accountability while ensuring minimum state accreditation standards are met.

Through a cyclical process, school districts self assess, review needs, plan, implement changes, and evaluate success. The process determines compliance with state accreditation standards while providing a general assessment of educational practice. At the center of the process is a department-led comprehensive site visit which occurs once every five years. Following the visit, the department prepares an accreditation report which includes compliance-related citations and recommendations for the purpose of improving educational practices above minimal compliance.

HLC Accreditation Process

Institutions of higher education eligible to participate in Senior Year Plus must be regionally accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC). This regional accreditation process certifies institutional quality using a process for self-improvement based on critical self-analysis and peer evaluation. In addition, accredited status is required for colleges to have access to federal funds, including student financial aid.

Through the accreditation process, colleges and universities are evaluated to ensure students receive quality offerings in line with their stated mission. In addition to assessing formal educational activities, the HLC also evaluates governance and administration, financial stability, admissions and student personnel services, resources, student academic achievement, organizational effectiveness, and relationship with external constituencies.

The accreditation process involves extensive self-study and a site visit by an accreditation team. Following each visit, a report is generated with recommendations regarding continued accreditation and for institutional improvement.

The HLC currently supports two pathways by which postsecondary educational institutions can maintain their institutional accreditation: Standard and Open. A third pathway, the Candidacy Pathway, is for colleges seeking initial candidacy. The Iowa Department of Education accepts all of the HLC approved accreditation processes. The most current HLC pathway information can be found on their website for the Standard and Open pathway.
Community College State Accreditation Process

In addition to the HLC accreditation process, community colleges are accredited by the State Board of Education. The accreditation process supplements the HLC process by ensuring compliance with state standards not specifically reviewed through the HLC review.

Through the state accreditation process, Senior Year Plus programs are reviewed. As with other Iowa Department of Education accreditation processes, state accreditation is focused on both minimum compliance and continuous improvement above standards.

The state accreditation process includes desk review reports and site visits. The schedule is based on a 10-year cycle with comprehensive evaluations in year 10 and interim evaluations in year five. Following each visit, a final evaluation report is generated with recommendations and one of the components reviewed is the college’s concurrent enrollment program. The Iowa Department of Education may also conduct focus visits at any time if there is a pattern of serious complaints, a violation of rule or law, or if the college undergoes substantial unplanned changes.

Additional information on the state accreditation process may be found in the Iowa Community Colleges State Accreditation Guide.

NACEP Accreditation Process

In addition to institutional accreditation processes which ensure the public is well-served by an institution, colleges and universities are accredited by specialized accreditors which evaluate specific program areas (usually a discipline). National Alliance of Concurrent Enrollment Partnerships (NACEP) is the only national organization supporting programs, practitioners, and policy to advice concurrent enrollment.

Each of Iowa’s 15 community colleges has committed to seeking NACEP accreditation and ensuring the quality of concurrent enrollment programming. Recognized as a national model for states instituting quality controls for dual enrollment programs, a number of states have implemented concurrent enrollment policies or laws which utilize NACEP standards or accreditation. NACEP utilizes 16 standards which cover six categories: partnerships, curriculum, faculty, students, assessment, and program evaluation. Senior Year Plus standards are in close alignment with NACEP accreditation standards. The Department prepared a crosswalk which details the alignment between Senior Year Plus requirements and NACEP standards.

The process for obtaining NACEP accreditation involves an extensive application and document review process culminating in a peer review consisting of representatives of NACEP-accredited two- and four-year institutions. Starting with the 2021-22 accreditation cycle, the program interview will transition to a virtual site visit. Once accredited, NACEP accreditation is valid for five years for initial programs and seven years for a re-accredited program. In addition to the traditional Concurrent Enrollment Program (CEP) endorsement, institutions have the option to apply for an additional endorsement: College Provided Faculty Model (CPF).

Additional information on the NACEP accreditation process may be found in the NACEP Accreditation Guide.
Programs that allow high school students to take college courses in high school, known by various names such as dual enrollment, concurrent enrollment, dual credit, and early college, are popular, prevalent, and growing. The field has seen tremendous growth over the past decade as the federal government and state statutes have increasingly expanded their recognition of this key student success initiative. As more colleges and school districts prioritize access to impactful high school to college bridging initiatives and more students and families seek better options for leveraging their high school years, we have seen programs grow, develop, innovate, and become integrated into the nation’s educational landscape.

We have combed through decades of state and federal education data and years of rigorous research to build this fact sheet for use by programs, practitioners, policymakers, communities, students, and their families.
ONE IN THREE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TAKE COLLEGE COURSES

Dual and concurrent enrollment programs are popular across the country. Dating back to the 1950s, these programs have grown from a niche project to widely available in the US. Their unique ability to build lasting and impactful connections between secondary and post-secondary education and clear value to students, have made them as popular with families and policymakers alike.

• Thirty-four percent of U.S. students take college courses in high school. This is a threefold increase from the 10% participation rate reported in 2010. ¹

• In some states, high school students’ postsecondary course-taking rates far exceed the national average.
  » Indiana: 58% of Indiana high school graduates complete at least one college course ²
  » Iowa: 56.8% of Iowa seniors enrolled in college courses in high school ³
  » Idaho: 57% of Idaho high school graduates earned college credit while in high school ⁴
  » Minnesota: 42.8% of public high school graduates enrolled in at least one college course in the 2018-2019 school year ⁵
  » Colorado: 38.2% of Colorado high school graduates participate in the state's Concurrent Enrollment program ⁶

CONCURRENT ENROLLMENT IS THE MOST COMMON COURSE DELIVERY MODEL

• Eighty percent of dually enrolled students nationally take their college courses at their own school, and an additional 6% take the course at a school other than their home high school, such as a career center or academy. Students in the suburbs, towns and rural areas are even more likely to take a course at their own school. ¹

9 OUT OF 10 HIGH SCHOOLS OFFER COLLEGE COURSES

• 88.98% of high schools report that they offer dual enrollment coursework. ⁷

• High schools in the South (93.7%) and Midwest (91.1%) are more likely to offer dual enrollment programs than high schools in the Northeast (84.9%) or West (81.4%). ⁷

• The percentage of public high schools offering dual/concurrent coursework in 2017-18 varied from 100% in Georgia and Idaho to 55% in Nevada. ⁸

INCREDBLE STUDENT IMPACT

• The Value of a Degree: A postsecondary degree or credential increases individuals’ lifetime earning power and economic stability, career options and opportunities, offering stability in the face downturns in the economy and labor market. Now, more than ever, it is critical for students to access and complete college, dual and concurrent enrollment improves students’ likelihood of starting and finishing a degree.
• The Benefits of Dual and Concurrent Enrollment: Students completing college courses in high school, compared to their peers who complete no dual enrollment credits, are substantially more likely to » Graduate high school
  » Go to college
  » Stay in college and complete a degree, often in less time than their non-participating peers

• Student completion of college courses in high school also has a positive effect on academic achievement in high school, high school graduation, non-remedial placement upon college entry, postsecondary GPA and credit accumulation, and degree attainment. ⁹

• A study from the Community College Research Center (CCRC) found that 88% of the dual/concurrent enrollment students went on to college after high school and completed degrees at higher rates and in less time than their non-participating peers. ¹⁴ Several studies have documented these positive impacts of dual/concurrent enrollment participation after controlling for various student academic and demographic measures.

A POWERFUL EQUITY LEVER FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE

Closing Equity Gaps for ALL students but Particularly Low-Income Students and Students of Color: These higher outcomes persist when controlling for race/ethnicity, parents’ highest level of education and socioeconomic status, and the concentration of low-income or students of color in the student’s high school. ⁹⁻¹³

• Students from low-income backgrounds: Participating in dual/concurrent enrollment has a positive impact on college-going rates of students from low socioeconomic backgrounds.
  » Students from low-income backgrounds and/or school districts who participated in dual/concurrent enrollment were nearly 10% more likely to enter college after high school graduation than their non-participating peers. ⁹⁻¹⁵

• Students of color: Participating in dual/concurrent enrollment has a profound positive impact on students of color college-going rates.
  » Students in majority-minority school districts that participated in dual/concurrent enrollment were 32-56% more likely to go on to college after high school than non-participating students in the same school district. ⁹⁻¹²
  » One state system study found that the 6-year college graduation rates for students of color that had participated in dual/concurrent enrollment were 33% higher than their peers that had not participated and 12% higher than white dual/concurrent enrollment participants.

• Early findings suggest that high school minority students who complete postsecondary math and science courses experience lower levels of remedial math placement and are more likely to start college as STEM majors and complete STEM degrees. ¹⁵
AN UNDERUTILIZED EQUITY LEVER

- Dual and concurrent enrollment works to improve college-going and increases college success and degree attainment but it needs to be widely available for ALL students who can benefit from these programs. School characteristics and community characteristics all create inequitable access to this critical college access and success opportunity. We must do better!

- High-poverty, urban, small, and specialized high schools are less likely to offer dual/concurrent enrollment programs:

  » Poverty: High-poverty high schools are 19% less likely to offer dual/concurrent enrollment programs than their low-poverty counterparts. 16

  » School location: 57% percent of urban high schools offer dual/concurrent enrollment opportunities, compared to 67% of suburban high schools and 77% of town/rural high schools. 16

  » School size: Small high schools (serving 200 or fewer students) are 32% less likely to offer dual/concurrent enrollment programs, compared to large high schools (serving over 1,000 students). 16

  » School focus: While 76% of traditional and 72% of magnet schools offered dual/concurrent enrollment courses, far fewer charter (40%), alternative (20%) and special education (34%) schools offered such programs.

- Students of parents with lower levels of educational attainment and Black and Hispanic students have lower dual/concurrent enrollment participation rates:

  » Parents’ educational attainment: Students from whose parents had less than a high school diploma had 16% lower rate of dual/concurrent enrollment participation than did students whose parents’ highest level of education was a bachelor’s degree or higher. 1

  » Race/Ethnicity: 38% percent of high school students who were White or Asian had completed postsecondary coursework, compared to 30% of Hispanic and 27% of Black students. 1

Professional Development Information

Indian Hills Community College Connect 2 College Programs conducts annual Concurrent Enrollment Instructor (CEP) meetings for professional development prior to the start of the fall academic term. This is a mandatory meeting that features updates to college policies and processes to keep concurrent enrollment instructors informed and prepared to best serve students. It also includes a networking luncheon with IHCC faculty members and discipline specific meetings in the afternoon where IHCC faculty and CEP instructors share curriculum, work with IHCC faculty partners on content specific syllabi and collaboration, share classroom best practices, and teaching strategies. If a conflict prevents the instructor from attending, they must notify their school principal as well as the Connect 2 College Director and make plans to attend another college-sponsored professional development meeting prior to the start of the academic year. CEP instructors are also required to make arrangements to meet with their Faculty Partner.

Throughout the academic year, Indian Hills Community College hosts professional development days. Concurrent enrollment instructors are encouraged to attend these professional development opportunities to network with IHCC faculty members. The IHCC professional development days offered during the fall and spring academic terms feature session focused on improving teaching and learning. The college also offers Quality Faculty Plan (professional development) for online usage of Lynda.com. This service offers many online resources and webinars that offer instructional tips from anywhere. All CEP instructors follow the college’s Quality Faculty Plan requirement for adjunct instructors of a minimum of 4 hours of professional development annually. All professional development for CEP faculty members is tracked through the college’s My Learning Plan site.

Indian Hills Community College expects CEP instructors to participate in annual training, meet adjunct professional development requirements, and follow “Standards of Practice” of Concurrent Enrollment Courses. Faculty who are non-compliant with college expectations and standards are not provided the opportunity to teach concurrent enrollment courses for Indian Hills Community College. The college provides all CEP instructors with the High School Programs Manual and requires CEP instructors to sign a “Faculty Agreement” which outlines expectations and makes CEP instructors aware of non-compliance. The college addresses non-compliance in its annual Contract for Services signed between Indian Hills Community College and the partner school district. Additionally, non-compliance of professional development is addressed on page 12 of the college’s Quality Faculty Plan. Indian Hills Community College Quality Faculty Plan can be found at: www.indianhills.edu/qfp

Preparation for Class/Homework
Completing the readings and assignments on time is essential in order to succeed in this class. I expect you to have done the reading assignment when we begin class. Please bring your textbook to every class period. While you may not have had much homework in high school, expect to have a lot of it in college. Students should set aside 2-3 hours for homework per week for each credit hour. Since this class is a 3-credit class, you should plan on spending at least 6-9 hours a week on reading and homework.

Website
I have set up a course website on MyHills. I expect you to check the website often to get announcements, quizzes, and other course materials. To access MyHills: from the IHCC home page, click on “Quick Links,” then click on “MyHills Portal.” I will also expect you to check your grades periodically throughout the term. For tutorials on MyHills, see http://www.indianhills.edu/tutorials/index.php or type “tutorials” into the search box on the MyHills homepage.

Required Reading
  Important: This book is part textbook, part workbook. If you want to sell back your book, do not write in it. I will provide separate handouts for any exercises I assign.
- Other handouts I distribute in class and on MyHills

Grading
I will base your grade on your ability to think critically and to communicate clearly and persuasively; assignments, discussions and exams will measure these skills.

Policy on Comments and Re-Doing Coursework
Please be aware that, since this is college, I do not allow students to re-do any course work. All grades are final. Any comments that you receive on your work are intended to help you for the next assignment, paper, or exam.

Assignments
You will do a variety of assignments over the course of the term. Some will come from the textbook and others will come from me. Please do not write in your textbooks. I will provide handouts for any textbook-based exercises.
Engagement and Professionalism
Class engagement and professionalism are worth 10% of the grade. Above all, I would like to hear your voice as much as possible in our class discussions. Even if I am lecturing, I will ask questions to the class. This is why it is so important to do the reading before class. Informed participation is the best kind and will be reflected in your class participation grade.
A big part of the college experience involves learning how to be a professional. Unprofessional behaviors include chronic lateness, poor attendance, checking your phone, texting, wearing headphones, whispering with your neighbor during class (crosstalk), using your laptop for purposes other than note-taking, plagiarizing, cheating, missing exams, and packing up before class ends. Markers of professionalism include a positive attitude, using subject lines, greetings, spell check and a respectful tone in electronic communications; displaying attention to detail; taking notes; following directions and meeting deadlines. I expect you to read my comments and incorporate them into subsequent work.

Media Literacy Assignment
Working on critical thinking skills is one of our course goals. To this end, you’ll do a media literacy assignment you’ll submit on Turnitin.com. I will provide more detailed instructions.

Exams
There will be two multiple choice/essay exams. I have designed class assignments and homework to help you prepare for exams.

Reading Quizzes
I have set up chapter quizzes on MyHills. There is one quiz for each of the twelve chapters required. Each chapter quiz is due by the beginning of class, at which time the portal will close. I will tell the grade center not to count the lowest 2 scores at the end of the term. A missed quiz earns a zero and counts as a low score.

MyStudentBody
We will use the website MyStudentBody for online training on health and wellness in the college community. These will be done outside of class time on your own.

Final Paper/Presentation
Throughout the course, you will work on a paper to submit via turnitin.com. In the last week of class, you’ll do a brief presentation of your paper. I will provide more detailed instructions.

Plagiarism Policy
According to the IHCC Student Handbook, “Assuming ownership of another person’s words or ideas is the essence of plagiarism. Plagiarizing copyrighted material is a legally punishable offense; plagiarizing unpublished material in school is a severe breach of academic principles.” Since plagiarism often results from ignorance or misunderstanding, we will discuss proper citation in class. It is your responsibility to ask me if you are still unclear about what constitutes plagiarism. Keep in mind that knowingly sharing your work (letting someone copy from you) is also a breach of academic honesty; it does not “help” the other student. Students will receive from zero points to no more than half credit with the first offense. The second offense will result in a zero for the assignment and the potential of further disciplinary action. I allow students access to Turnitin.com’s originality reports. Given that I have defined it here, outlined my expectations, and provide this tool, there is simply no excuse for plagiarism.
Record Keeping/Best Practices
Save a copy of any work that you submit in the class. Email your work to yourself so that you have an electronic copy. After any electronic submission, log back in to check that your submission posted successfully. Technology sometimes fails, so you should always double check. Please retain any graded work for the duration of the semester. While I will make every effort to keep the MyHills Grade Center up to date, it is ultimately your responsibility to make sure that you have submitted all assignments and taken the exams.

Classroom Visit Information

Courses offered through Concurrent Enrollment (CEP) have the same course number, course title, course learning outcomes, and course credit hours as classes on the IHCC campus. Changes to courses are required to go through the Indian Hills Community College Academic Standards Committee. If course textbooks or learning outcomes are changed, this information is shared with all faculty including Concurrent Enrollment Faculty teaching the course by the discipline Program Director. Official course syllabi for all Indian Hills Community College courses are available on the college’s META site.

During faculty mentor classroom visits and department meetings, the Concurrent Instructor and IHCC Faculty discuss ways to approach learning outcomes through course assignments and classroom discussions in an effort to maintain continuity of courses no matter where the course is taught. All CEP faculty members are required to submit their official course syllabus to the Connect 2 College Office prior to the start of each academic term to assure college expectations of CEP courses are met.

Classroom visits take place on a rotating basis according to the individual department’s site-visit cycle with a minimum of one classroom visit every three academic years. During the classroom visit, the Faculty Partner engages in a concurrent class observation ensuring the course is consistent with the campus course. Documentation of the visit is written in a formal evaluation “IHCC Classroom Visitation Report” (see page 19) and signed by both the CEP Instructor and Indian Hills Community College faculty member during a follow-up conference to discuss the visit and answer any questions.

Library

Libraries are located on the Ottumwa and Centerville campuses. Each library offers comprehensive services and collections to support the informational needs of students, staff and community patrons. The college ID card serves as a library card, and must be presented to check out materials. Items are circulated for 21 days. Fines are charged for overdue materials.

Information is just a click away at www.indianhills.edu. You’ll find the library link at the bottom of the college home page. Explore the library’s web page for information on library locations, hours, policies, and research tips, and to gain access to thousands of books, CDs, DVDs, video tapes, audio books, e-books and videos, and full-text magazines, journals and newspapers through the library’s databases. Online resources are available 24/7, providing staff and students with access to library materials any time or place.

- Use the card catalog to find books, videos, CDs, DVDs, e-books, audio books and videos.
- Use the database link to find full-text articles on thousands of topics. Database passwords are available through the myHILLS account under the My Services tab or by clicking on “Library” under the Campus Links tab.

Visit the library for reference, interlibrary loan, and photocopy service, research assistance, access to computers, wireless internet access, individual and group study space, and instruction on how to use library resources.

To speak to a librarian, call (800) 726-2585 ext. 5199 or (641) 683-5199 (Ottumwa) or (800) 670-3631 ext. 2237 (Centerville). Assistance is also available at library@indianhills.edu.
